What's New In NfsEdenFalls?

It is supposed to get you into a meditative mood. This is a screensaver that will be a joy to behold. Joss Whedon announced today that a feature length animated film he wrote and directed will be coming to theaters in a few months. The movie is called Serenity and will have its world premiere at the Toronto International Film Festival on September 10. During the TIFF screening, the public will be able to get a first look at the film, and cast and crew will be available for interviews. The team behind the film is made up of series regulars Ben Edlund, Joss Whedon, John Cassar, Greg Beeman, Tim Minear, and J.M. Straczynski. Executive Producers include Buffy creator Joss Whedon, Chris Ryall, and Alan Rubin. The team's previous work includes music videos for the likes of Linkin Park, Smashing Pumpkins, and Beastie Boys. The film is based on the popular comic book from Dark Horse Comics, which has sold millions of copies and spawned a television show and two video games. The story has been adapted for the screen in three parts. The first, Serenity, premiered in February 2005 to positive reviews. "It's a real thrill to be bringing the first comic book film to the screen," said Whedon. "This is an even bigger project than the first one, and I can't wait to see what this team of experts has done. I'm so proud of it that I'm going to see it as soon as possible." Just a week ago, the first feature-length trailer for the film was released to show clips from the movie, including a rough edit of the film's trailer. The film will be released in theaters by 20th Century Fox in November. There will be a Q&A with the cast at the Toronto Film Festival on September 10 at 10:00 a.m. The screening will take place at the Prince Edward Theatre. Joss Whedon, Alan Rubin, J.M. Straczynski, Timothy Minear, John Cassar, Greg Beeman, and Chris Ryall are the executive producers, and it is based on the Dark Horse Comics comic book Serenity. This is a widescreen high-definition movie of the true action-packed universe of the popular Emmy-winning TV series. The Hyperkinetic Justice League vs. the Underdog Team brings in a team of expert DC Comics experts and animators to put together an official DC Comics animation. The movie is being directed by Matt Senreich. The voice cast includes the legendary Bruce Greenwood as Batman, Jay Baruchel as The Flash, Christopher Gorham as Green Lantern, Kevin Michael Richardson as Superman, Clancy Brown as Aquaman, Mark Hamill as The Joker, and Dante Basco as Robin. They're unstoppable. They're out to stop him
