When it comes to comparing the contents of two small folders, most of us do it manually. Yet, things get more challenging when dealing with large folders, and that is why dedicated software like isimSoftware Directory Comparison Software is useful.

Straightforward GUI The application features an intuitive and user-friendly interface, thus allowing both experts and novices enjoy its functions. You need to start by selecting the two folders you want to analyze. This can be achieved either by browsing to the location of each directory, or by dragging and dropping them onto the main window. As soon as you are ready, you can press the Compare folders or Compare sub-folders buttons. Compare the contents of two directories Once the examination step is completed, isimSoftware Directory Comparison Software displays the results in a color-coded approach. The colors used for each type of file (different, similar, non-existent or not compared) can be replaced with custom ones. This way, it is quite obvious which files are stored in both folders and which are not. The info regarding each document includes filename, size, type and last modified date. Right-clicking any entry in the results list allows you to open the current file with the default app, launch the containing folder or access the Properties window. You can also copy or move the chosen document to the other folder with only a single mouse click. Alternatively, you can copy or move it to a completely different directory that you select on your computer.

Conclusion In a nutshell, isimSoftware Directory Comparison Software can help you save a lot of time related to folder comparison. You can not only find similarities and differences between your files, but you can also compare sub-folders, calculate directory size or compare modified dates for files and folders alike.
