Capture is a fast and simple screen capture tool, that will allow you to capture even the entire screen, at any color depth and resolution, and save it into a Bitmap file for editing. If you are interested in only capturing one window, you can select to capture the active application window only, to save time editing screenshots. Capture runs on the Windows Tray (the lower right corner), and takes a screen capture every time you left click on the picture of a camera, and a bitmap will be saved into the directory Capture is running from.

You can take as many captures as you want, limited only by your imagination, and harddrive space. To exit Capture, just right click on it, and select 'Exit'; it's just that simple. is very welcome, and I will try my best to be responsive. “We’re all going to die,” says James Bernbach. “But when we’re done here, we’re going to get up and be somebody.” Four members of the popular and influential folk-rock band R.E.M. (“it’s-been-a-long-day”), were asked this week to put into words their hopes and fears for the future. Each has been asked the same set of questions, the most of which are no different from the ones we posed here in late 2008. The band’s first two leaders, Michael Stipe and Peter Buck, have now parted ways. Buck is now the band’s bassist; Stipe, who once was the band’s singer, has not made public any plans for the future. It's with great sadness that we mark the passing of singer Michael Stipe. This great loss is made more bitter by the memory of the fans with whom he shared a common experience. Michael Stipe brought his passion and 77a5ca646e

Capture is a simple, and fast way to capture a screen into a bitmap file. Capture will take a screenshot of the entire screen, or just the active window, saving the captured picture into a bitmap file. Usage: Capture can be used from the Windows Tray (the lower right corner) or by double clicking on the picture of the camera in the Windows Toolbar. Capture will capture the screen every time you left click on the picture of the camera. Capture takes a screen capture every time you click 'Enter' in the 'Enter Screen Name' field. The captured image can then be saved into any directory you have specified in the Settings panel. To exit Capture, simply right click on it, and select 'Exit'. Bug reports and feature requests are always welcome. Credits: I would like to thank all people who have helped me develop Capture. My sincere
