You play as a character who got into the Gulag. The Gulag was a place of detention in the years 1930-1960. The purpose of the camps was to use the labor force of persons serving sentences to colonize remote and unfavorable lands throughout the Soviet Union. Your father was one of the first prisoners and has been serving his sentence for 3 years. His request is to be released or die in the Gulag. The Gulag has a complex communication system, which you must try to break. -Find your way in the vast network of corridors and rooms, where inmates seek to kill you. -Improve your skills by learning new techniques. -Earn experience points to increase your level. -Upgrade your weapon or change your costume to make your escape. -Choose your weapon before starting the escape! You are a convict who escaped the death-row transport. Since you are hungry, you think of a way to steal an apple. You can choose a weapon like a rake, spade, or nails, after opening the menu. You can purchase some items with your money or earn them by stealing an apple or some other item, which will be added to the inventory when opening the menu. You can store items in your inventory. When you open the menu, it will be marked as a bag. -While you are on the road, you will see some opponents who try to stop you, or robbers who try to steal your belongings. -You can pay some money to buy a shield or a combination of items which will increase the points given for survival. -When you open the menu, you will see an overview of what you have stolen. -You can choose to give your loot to a friend, or sell the items to the shopkeeper. -You can choose to sell your inventory. The present invention relates to an apparatus and a method for automatic shipping of a plurality of articles. The present invention is preferably applied to a system in which a plurality of articles is automatically stored in a shipping container. The present invention also relates to an automatic packaging system which includes a storage device for storing the articles, an unwinding device for automatically unwinding the package for each article from a roll of the package wrapped around a bobbin, a lifting device for lifting the article from the unwound package for placement into the container, a supply device for supplying the articles to be packaged, a pasting device for applying a pasting onto the articles in the container, and a closing device for sealing the container. The invention is applicable to not only packing of individual articles but also packing of groups of articles. However, the invention is particularly useful in packing articles which are to be shipped overseas. Conventionally, when articles are to be shipped overseas, the articles are packed in a box. The box is shipped by air or by surface transportation. Since a box is relatively large, the total weight of the contents is rather heavy. Further, a box is inconvenient for handling and is difficult to open. For this reason, c9d1549cdd
