view -Updated to support Android 6.0+ and Google Play Services 31.12.02+ -Removed the Amazon Appstore Filter -Updated content to use Android 11 nougat API Reviews VR Photo Viewer Cracked Version 4 5 4 4 Not worth it. by Alex on 03/03/17 I use this all the time on my phone, but when I try to use it on a computer I can't seem to find a way to open it other than clicking the file on my phone. I have already written a customer feedback report, but I just wanted to tell the developers that I am disappointed. If you are going to distribute something as shareware, I expect to be able to right click on it and open it. I am sorry to state that, but this is a significant reason why I do not support shareware. VR Photo Viewer 5 5 4 5 Love the app by WindowsUser on 10/31/17 Great app - and how I found it on google play. I am just not willing to shell out all the cash for a Cam2cam viewing service. VR Photo Viewer 5 5 5 4 Favorite Photo Viewer by junfeng on 05/01/17 This is one of the best photo viewing app I have. I use it to view my

for GoogleChrome-enabled digital SLR cameras With Virtual Pixel Technology, this viewer will allow you to view your images on screen like they're "in the flesh" - in good light. What's more it even displays them in their original, unframed format - your own digital files! You will need a Google Chrome browser to make use of this app. All supported digital SLR cameras are supported, including the Sony Alpha & Beta and Sigma series cameras, as well as all Fujifilm models. Frequently Asked Questions: What formats does this app support? All supported digital camera file types, including raw, jpegs and jpgs are supported. This includes Kodak and Sony PMW files, as well as all Fuji X-series including the XPro-1, XPro-2, XE-1, XE-2 and more. How about the dedicated screen on the back of my model? The vVC is our best-in-class 4.2 million pixels screen. It projects an image onto the LCD screen on the back of your camera, to complement your live view functionality. It delivers an unbelievably sharp and vivid rendering of up to 2048 x 1536 pixels (depending on the model and the lens you are using). Unlike other apps, it doesn't degrade image quality. It's so high resolution, the difference between 18 MP and 24 MP images are really invisible to the user. What DSLR models does it support? The VGVC vVC is available for the Sony Alpha 7, 7R, 60, A300, A330, A7R, CX300, A65, A6500 and the full range of legacy models we support, including the older DJI OSDs. It also supports models that use the remote OSD chip, including the Sony 70, 100, 200 and 300 series and the Canon 5D and 5DMkII models, but some models will not display the "Remote OSD" option as they have been locked down to a firmware version that was several years ago. To check which models are supported on your specific model, visit our support page at: "Supported model list" What is "Clear All"? This clears all the recorded data from the previous time you used the app and clears all of the thumbnail images from your images. Why only available to the UK?

Ann Stevens Jr. Ann Stevens Jr. (November 15, 1923 - August 19, 2004) was an American publisher and philanthropist. Biography Early years Ann Stevens Jr. was born on November 15, 1923, in Columbia, South Carolina. Her father, Ann Stevens Sr., was a plant manager for South Carolina Electric & Gas. When Stevens was about to graduate from South Carolina State College in Stateburg, South Carolina, she was drafted into the Women's Army Corps in 1943; she would marry (and divorce) a second time after she was discharged in 1945. Marriages Ann Stevens married her first husband Henry Smyth Jr. in July 1945 in Spartanburg, South Carolina; the couple later divorced. She married her second husband Stewart Burns in October 1951 in Georgetown, South Carolina. In 1961, she graduated from the University of South Carolina School of Law, and she completed her studies in 1963. Career After her divorce, Ann Stevens inherited $2.7 million from her parents. Stevens Jr. co-founded a publishing firm. She served as President of the Ann Collins Publishing Company, which she co-founded in 1963. In 1965, Ann Stevens Jr. with another associate, Gerald Bourne Jr., purchased the Longstreet Publishing Company. This company published the Greater Carolinas Telephone Directory and a number of health magazines. She founded and became the president of a health organization, Health Communications, Inc. in 1970. In a partnership also with Gerald Bourne Jr., Stevens published textbooks for use in homes and children's preschools. She also ran Stevens-Brookstone Company. Philanthropy Ann Stevens Jr. supported charitable and educational foundations, particularly awareness and prevention of alcoholism. She was a member of the Charleston, South Carolina chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. Honors Ann Stevens Jr. was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University of South Carolina.
