About The Game: Try to get the best time in Time-trial and beat your friends and scores in Challenge mode. The game is controlled by a gamepad or a keyboard and the goal is to collect as many points as possible! Pet Squad Racing is a light-hearted speed-racing game for up to 2 players with cartoon graphics and full of great music and sound effects! With over 100 different challenges you can test your luck and see if you have got what it takes to beat the game! There is a physics engine in place that governs movement of all the vehicles and pets. Your pet obeys traffic signs and collides against the walls if they can, but in the end you should try to avoid such things and win the race. Speed is your key in Pet Squad Racing and you can speed up, slow down and use other tricks to overtake or get an advantage over your opponents. There are more than 100 different levels in Pet Squad Racing to race through. The more challenges you complete, the more difficult they will get. The game is designed for ages 3+. Some of the things you can do in Pet Squad Racing: Race through 100 crazy levels. All of them are designed to keep you on the edge of your seat and will test your skills. Try the "Scratch The Clock" challenge and see if you can beat the clock. Speed through the levels and try to beat your previous best time in Time-trial. Challenge your friends in local multiplayer. Challenge your friends in different elimination games and competitions. Customize your pet with different colors, clothes, accessories and more! Include your own pet into the game! Call your friends and race them with your pet. You can send different cards to your friends to compete with them. Eliminate your opponents in a race to the finish. Try to get your opponents in time to send you home. Eliminate your opponents in time for a special reward. Find your friends and challenge them!

Share your high scores with your friends and competitors via Facebook and Twitter. Include your friends and opponents in a race! Like Pet Squad Racing? Subscribe to

What's new in SEQUENCE STORM Soundtrack:

Wackenheim, Frankfurt away v Schalke Published on: September 05, 2019 The opening round of the Bundesliga season sees German football going head to head with foreign folklore. The current European champions, Bayern Munich, feature Bernd Leno in goal, donning the outfield German rugby jersey this week for his team's fixture against Schalke. Elsewhere, 19-year-old German Guinean defensive midfielder Quincy Oyen Oyen, dubbed the 'new Howard Webb' by the Guardian, walks out on the pitch at home to Frankfurt to begin his Bundesliga career. Jimmy Grant, Head of Sport for Fédération Internationale de Football Association (FIFA), joins Matchday Live to preview the season and offers his insight. Matchday Live: How do you feel the Bundesliga season is shaping up? Jimmy Grant: I think, in terms of results in terms of the league table, the Bundesliga is looking quite open to say the best team wins at the moment. I think there'll be any one or two battles going on and I think we'll possibly have surprises from some of the lower placed teams. Matchday Live: How has the Bundesliga been so competitive in terms of talking about these new sides? Jimmy Grant: I think the Bundesliga has traditionally been a really high quality league with interesting, alternative styles of play, not just around attack-minded football or possession football but of small quick players moving the ball about. I think the interest in the league has come about for a couple of reasons. Firstly, the Bundesliga usually tends to put a team in the Champions League every season, and you're seeing this year as well. Also the addition of Jadon Sancho, there's lots of alternative football being played, lots of speed, lots of running from the ball. Obviously, the sport has become very popular here in Europe especially and you're seeing lots of football being played around the world. Matchday Live: Now, your colleague Dmitro Lubomirsky is representing one of the opening fixtures this weekend as he travels to the Weserstadion to face the VfL Osnabrück. Jimmy Grant: He's going to be very excited to be part of this weekend and representing Germany on a football pitch. It's the opening match of the season and there's no better way to kick-start

Niki is not the typical protagonist. She is not much of a fighter or a skilled combatant. However, she is pretty smart, and she can quickly figure out the situation, the tools that are available, the kind of objects they will be used for and, as a result, defeat her enemies, improve her items, hide from them or trap them. She can lure them into a nasty situation, and then she can use her powers to defeat them. Niki can get up to four objectives at a time. If she sets a trap for one of your enemies, she can use it to get rid of a body and then go back for another objective. After she destroys all of your enemies, she will go to the main goal of the level. Besides the main objectives, you can also collect and use items that can help you get through the level. These items are helpful both in battles and in completing the objectives. This is my first game. I am a 1 year professional 2D Game Development Program student. I hope you enjoy the game! Our Early Access Page: My website: I decided to write a small tutorial, in which I explain the basics and some more advanced concepts of the gameplay of my game, Overdreamer. In this tutorial I have explained: - How to disable enemies - How to set up traps - How to set up a pump - How to make the game more challenging - How to create different levels The Overdreamer is a side-scrolling 2D horror game, in which you must use and combine various items in order to defeat your enemies and carry on, so that you can figure out what's happening behind the scenes. The protagonist is Niki, a little girl who finds herself in a nightmare, even though she doesn't even remember the time she went to bed. She's somewhat quick to realize that she cannot wake up from this nightmare, and the dream may not even be completely her own. In physical battle, most of her enemies can kill her in an instant, so she has to rely on her smarts instead of her strength in order to overcome them, hide from them or trap them. About This Game: Niki is not the typical protagonist. She is not much of a fighter or a skilled combatant. However, she is pretty smart, and she can
