I know that they have the title Monster Hunter Portable 3rd HD free to download.Q: Nuxt.js and Nuxt.js Pro module - Preloading files on Client Side I am using Nuxt.js and Nuxt.js Pro module. I have noticed that for some of the files, I am not able to preload them on Client side. Example: This file is not getting loaded. After getting this file loaded, I have added a Nuxt.js component in index.vue and I am able to see index.js component get loaded. This lead me to believe that files are loaded based on the order of a file. I am not sure if I am right and that is the reason. The above scenario is based on how the files are getting loaded. Is there a way to preload files in the same order that they get loaded? A: The order of loading files in Nuxt.js is determined by the order in which they are mentioned in the HTML. For example, this is how we load the "index.vue" file in the HTML: import index from './index.vue'; However, if we have something like this: the order is backwards. So your loading the JavaScript file instead of the HTML file. Nuxt is basically loading the JavaScript files from the HTML. To fix this, you should change your "index.js" file to match the order of the HTML
